

I absolutely oppose further media consolidation and urge the FCC to maintain the current ownership rules. It is vital for the health of our democracy that media power is not further concentrated.